Jon Huntsman, Republican Presidential Hopeful and Former Governor of Utah

Presidential race

Time: 6:28

Huntsman is the second Republican hopeful to come to Al Punto. In a one-on-one interview with Ramos he talks about the presidential race, and for the first time explains his immigration plan to the Hispanic community. What would he do with the 11 million undocumented? Is he in favor of legalization? Huntsman also addresses issues related to Cuba and explains to Ramos why he believes Venezuelan President Hugo Chavez is a threat to the region.

Juan Rendón, Director and Writer "Infiltrados" Documentary, and Director of Documentales Univision

"Infiltrados"

Time: 7:00

Inspired by General Naranjo's operative of infiltrating the FARC, Documentales Univision presents "Infiltrados" (Infiltrated). The documentary goes undercover to provide an in-depth look at the Colombian national police and the involvement of its intelligence division DIPOL (Dirección de Inteligencia de la Policía Nacional) in the strikes against that ended the life of two of FARC's most wanted leaders: Raúl Reyes and Mono Jojoy. Juan Rendon comes to Al Punto and shares with Ramos what he had to do to obtain exclusive testimonies from former infiltrados. What was at stake for these officers? How did they manage to stay alive? How was Rendon able to bring to life a secretive operation that ended with the most violent and sought-after terrorists in the world?

Ed Gillespie, Chairman of the Republican State Leadership Committee

Hispanics and 2012 Elections

Time: 8:00

As the nation's fastest growing minority, the Republican Party is seeking to attract Hispanic voters ahead of the 2012 elections. Ed Gillespie, chairman of the Republican State Leadership Committee, comes to Al Punto to talk about his plan to recruit 100 Hispanics to run for legislative office. What will be the impact of this program? Gillespie also reacts to President Obama's tax proposal and discusses immigration issues.

Danny Hernandez, Former Marine Corp

"Don't ask, don't tell"

Time:6:00

After nearly two decades, gays and lesbians who serve in the military may be open about their sexuality. On Tuesday the law commonly known as "Don't Ask, Don't Tell" was repealed. This Sunday, Ramos talks to a former Marine Corp about the significance of this decision. What will happen to those who were forced out of the military because of their sexual orientation?
